HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Sunday, April 2, is Palm Sunday, the first day of Holy Week. On this day we remember Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem, but also read the passion narrative, this year according to Matthew, to recall that Jesus' popularity was fleeting while on earth and that his suffering and death were the ultimate reason for his being here. At both services, we will begin in the fellowship area for the blessing of the palms and process into church.

April 6 is Maundy Thursday and the Holy Communion will be celebrated in remembrance of the supper Jesus had with His disciples on the night before he died. Maundy, as you may know, comes from the Latin word mandatum from which our word mandate comes. There are many things that the Lord commanded us to do, but this command speaks specifically of the command to love one another. We do this on Maundy Thursday by celebrating the Eucharist remembering the greatest act of love toward us by our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. This will take place at 7:00 pm.

On Good Friday, April 7, we will remember the Lord's passion and death with readings from Scripture, including the Passion according to John. Our service also includes the Veneration of the Cross, the primary and most recognizable symbol of Christianity. The Veneration takes place with a bow, perhaps a genuflection before the cross, or even kneeling to kiss the cross as a sign of our love for Jesus and what he did for us on the cross. We will also have the distribution of Holy Communion from the reserved sacrament. Also at 7:00 pm.

Our Sunday services for Easter will be at 9:30 and 11:00 am. The latter service will be preceded by the flowering of the cross by our children. Hopefully all can attend one of our Easter services, as well as those in Holy Week.

HOLY WEEK

Much of the Christian experience, and by that I mean living the Christ-life, is shrouded in mystery and encapsulated within a few days in the springtime each year. We call it Holy Week, not because the week itself is special but because the mystery of our salvation is brought to life in the liturgical celebrations we enact during these days. Much of liturgy is theatre, drama. It involves staging, with people playing different roles and saying lines to make the drama real. But it is different than a stage play. When you go to the theatre and watch a play, even a really good play, there is some momentary satisfaction which may last for a time but in the end is ephemeral. The drama of Holy Week and its liturgical celebrations, while experienced in a moment in time, stands for a life changing experience that lasts for eternity. That is why the church does this every year. Not because we haven't seen it or experienced it before but because we need to experience it often. There is always the hope that this year the Holy Spirit will touch us with a different part of the mystery that has heretofore escaped us. Don't think that this is a "been there-done that" experience. That if you have done Holy Week in the past, that's all there is. The mystery of our salvation is so deep, so profound that it can never be plumbed too deeply. As with all of our liturgical celebrations, there is a tendency to allow familiarity to breed contempt. To judge the service on the basis of the sermon because, after all, that's what's new every time (at least hopefully). But these mysteries stand on their own, with or without commentary. The objective here is not just to attend them but to allow yourself to be saturated by them. To be part of the crowd shouting Hosannas on Palm Sunday; seated at table with Jesus and the apostles celebrating the new Passover; standing at the foot of the cross with the women and the disciple whom Jesus loved; and finally, approaching the empty tomb. You simply have to place yourself in the scene, live in that moment, and allow yourself to be transformed. But there is one liturgy that transcends even all of Holy Week although we do it several times during it. That is the Eucharist itself. The Sacrifice of the Mass. The Holy Communion. However you wish to call it. This is the pinnacle of our worship because Jesus Himself gave it to us to do over and over and over again. With music, without music. With sermon, without sermon. Processions or not. ... The Eucharist is the center of our life because He is the center of our life. Without this we have nothing. More and more the "sola scriptura" crowd is coming back to what Jesus gave us to do, because Jesus gave it to us to remember who He is and what He did for us. Otherwise we wouldn't. Which brings me back to Holy Week. We do Holy Week because we need it to be a living part of our lives and not just a once a year ritual. Lest we forget!

5TH SUNDAY POTLUCK LUNCHEON

April 30 is the second month in 2023 with five Sundays. This means there will be a potluck luncheon held after the 11:00 service on April 30. Plan to bring something tasty to eat to share with fellow parishioners. It is fun to enjoy food that others have made and to visit with St. Francis friends.

EASTER LILIES

The sanctuary will be adorned with flowers and lilies beginning on Easter Sunday, April 9. If you would like to make a remembrance or thank offering for the flowers, there are envelopes on the table in the entry hall for this purpose. Gifts will be collected through Palm Sunday, April 2.

GROUNDS MAINTENANCE TEAM

Do you have the talent and time to help with the upkeep of the St. Francis grounds? Junior Warden Jim Crandell is looking for people to add to the team to help make the area around the church and the parking lot look crisp and neat.

We currently have four people who can help from time to time, but the tasks with the growth that happens in the spring are beyond what a small team can do. The idea is for a group to get together and knock out this maintenance periodically. Now that the groundcover is growing, this will be an ongoing project until next winter. Let Jim know if you can help by emailing info@stfrancisaustin.org.

SAVE THE DATE

Since the Dobb's decision by the Supreme Court last year, pregnancy resource centers need our help more than ever. They support women in unplanned pregnancies throughout their pregnancies and beyond. They provide numerous free services such as helping these women access medical care, social services, educational services (parenting classes, budgeting classes), physical needs (such as diapers, formula, baby clothes, bottles etc.) and support for their families. We here at St Francis have been supporting Trotter House for many years. In coordination with the national Anglicans For Life, we are holding a baby shower for Trotter House on Sunday May 7, 2023 after the 11:00 am service. Lori DeVillez, the director of Trotter House, will be here to talk about Trotter House, updating us on all they provide, as well as answering any questions you may have. Please consider attending and make this an overwhelming success. Even if you can't attend on May 7th, consider donating items to help out. We will be accepting items for the shower up through May 31st. Any questions, or if you want to help in the planning, contact Charlotte Ready at (512) 288-5597.
